

About American Specialty Glass

American Specialty Glass (ASG) opened its doors in 2001 recycling bottles and windows for the terrazzo flooring industry. Since then, the company has expanded its product offering and capabilities into numerous markets around the globe. Located in North Salt Lake, Utah – a suburb of Salt Lake City – ASG operates several glass melting furnaces and colors the glass using proprietary methods and formulations. All ASG manufactured products are 100% recycled and made in the USA.
